

SCAN MARINE/WALLAS

95D Parts unavailable

Applies to models 95DU, 95DP, 125DU and 125DP

In 2006, Wallas discontinued the 95D products in favor of the more advanced 85D products. Since that time the new models have changed names a couple times, but primarily are known as the 85Dt stove and/or the Nordic Dt stove/heater.

As time has passed, the 95D is still serviceable, except for certain parts that have been discontinued. These include:

1. The PCBs (printed circuit boards for control and lid switching)
2. Ceramic plate/chassis
3. Control panel

The other components are still available, and we are still servicing them on a weekly basis. If you are planning to ship us a stove/heater, be sure to package it carefully to avoid damage while shipping.
